Description

Bolingbroke Capital operates a concentrated global portfolio focusing on companies we believe to be secure stores of wealth irrespective of market conditions. We value investments with the mindset of complete ownership and concentrate on core business principles rather than current market sentiment. Our portfolio consists of companies spanning all sizes. We do our own independent in-house research looking at company fundamentals and seek only to become long-term partners when we believe we can buy the entire company at a significant margin of safety to our estimate of intrinsic value. Our primary goal is to exceed the return of the general market; as such, we use the FTSE100 Total Return Index as a yardstick for performance. We eat our own cooking too. As at this report, 92% of the founder's net worth is invested in Bolingbroke Capital.
